What Bathroom Fixtures?

There are those people who might understand and agree with the Cornell University team which, in a 116-page report after vast research, concludes that traditional bathroom fixtures in homes are unsanitary, uncomfortable and often dangerous.

But not all people will understand. Particularly those people who are men and are in a house with several women—a wife and daughters. Anyone in such a position hasn't had much opportunity to notice that any such unsanitary, uncomfortable and dangerous fixtures exist. He doesn't see them often, or for long.

This doesn't mean that he doesn't visit the bathroom. But when he does, there's a knock on the door. "excuse me, Dad, but can you hurry?" He hurries. He may be in the tub. "I'll hide my head, Dad, but I must get my curlers." Then... "excuse me, Dad, but I forgot my lipstick." Then a mirror and things like that.

Then, all at once he learns through the Cornell team that the fixtures are wrong. But when he starts looking at them on his next visit, he sees hosiery, other garments, other clothes drying, cosmetics, oils, polishes, shampoo, boxes of curlers, and things like that. Many other things, in fact, like that.

"Why don't you use the other bathroom?" he's asked as he registers an occasional complaint. "I wouldn't dare," he responds, "for I wouldn't miss this experience for the world. It would change my whole day if it were any other way."

But one of these days he may get a chance to look at those fixtures real good — when there's no knock on the door, no "hide my face" to come in, no lineup of the latest camouflage techniques. Then he may be in position to decide if that Cornell team knows what it's talking about. — Burlington (N.C.) Daily Times-News.

To Books Or To Battle

"By working harder, one student becomes another's executioner — sending the other to war in his place."

This comes from a statement issued by students who seized the administration building at the University of Chicago in protest against the university's decision to supply both grade averages and class rankings to the Selective Service System for draft classification. These protesting students were not satisfied even by the university's declaration that it would not supply the information without specific approval from the affected student.

This student statement, of course, is nonsense. The deferment of college students is only and properly based upon assuring the continuing education of students upon whose education America may much depend in the future. If students are not willing to demonstrate by brains or application such reason for deferment, they should take their regular places in the draft line — and fast.

The suggestion that the student of brains and/or application who demonstrates proficiency is the executioner of the one who does not is a suggestion that educational deferments should protect the dull and the lazy, not the ablest and the best. If that should become the case the whole business of student deferments should be scrapped. — Raleigh (N.C.) News and Observer.

McMillan Rates the Position

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The No. 1 man in the Republican gubernatorial primary, by position on the ballot, will be Gus A. McMillan of Sheridan, the two-time Democratic candidate for governor.

The Pulaski County Republican Committee held a drawing for the ballot position and it was agreed that McMillan would be listed before Winthrop Rockefeller on all the ballots in the state.

County Has Fewer Farms, Livestock Best Cash Product

A total of 1,395 farms was counted in Hempstead County during the 1964 Census of Agriculture, the U. S. Department of Commerce's Bureau of the Census reports.

In the last previous Census of Agriculture (1959), the total counted in the county was 1,416 farms.

The 1964 total is published in a preliminary report on the county just issued. The report shows that average farm size in the county was 190.5 acres and that the average value of the county's farms (land and buildings) in 1964 was $21,764.

Other important county statistics in the report are:

1. Value of all farm products sold by farms in the county in 1964, $10,793,559; in 1959, $5,094,737.
2. Value of all crops sold by county farms in 1964, $1,436,257; in 1959, $1,272,956.
3. Value of all livestock and livestock products sold by county farms in 1964, $9,336,969 in 1959, $3,821,781.

Information obtained for the first time in an agricultural census included the amount of income received by the county's farmers $20,333 from recreational services as well as data on the use of pest control chemicals in the county in 1964.

A Census of Agriculture is taken every 5 years in years ending in "4" and "9" to gather information on the nation's agricultural resources and production. The data are needed to make decisions affecting many segments of the U.S. economy. The 1964 farm census was the 18th in a series that began in 1840.

The preliminary report for the county contains more than 500 facts about agriculture in the county. Among additional facts it contains are the number of farms by size, type, and economic class; the number of farm operators by method of tenure, age, color, off-farm work, and number of school years completed; land in farms by use and by land-use practices; data on equipment and facilities; farm expenditures; number of hired workers; and number of farms reporting poultry and livestock production and those reporting crop production by acres and quantities as well as sales.

Emphysema Produced on Smoking Dogs

CHICAGO (AP) — Emphysema, a lung disease with a death rate increasing faster in the United States than that of any other single disease, has been produced experimentally in cigarette-smoking dogs, a medical research team reported today.

At two smoking sessions daily, for more than a year, the dogs inhaled cigarette smoke through hollow plastic tubes inserted in their windpipes.

In a report to the general scientific session of the annual meeting of the American Medical Association, the researchers said:

"The inhalation of smoke directly from cigarettes by dogs causes destruction of lung tissue indistinguishable pathologically from that found in human emphysema."

Car Crashes Into Building

City Police reported that an auto driven by Doris Nelson, crashed into the front of Tiger Inn, on S. Laurel, yesterday and crumbled the front wall of the Negro establishment. The damage was considerable.

Charges of improper brakes and allowing an unlicensed driver to drive an auto were filed by Officers R. Rowe, Willis and McCulley.

Plans School for Retarded

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Plans for a school for the mentally retarded have been announced by the director of Boys Town, the haven for homeless boys near Omaha, Neb.

Msgr. Nicholas H. Wegner said Thursday an establishment with a cost of perhaps $10 million is envisioned on a 240-acre site north and west of the main campus of Boys Town, west of Omaha.

White Rule No Longer Marchers Told

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — The long and turbulent Mississippi march has ended with James H. Meredith — who started it as a "journey against fear" — saying the "governor and every other person is going to pay attention to the Negro."

"The system of white supremacy will reign no longer," Meredith said heavily guarded rally before imposing State Capitol Building Sunday.

Some 16,000 persons, most of them Negroes, flowed through Jackson streets to jam into a portion of the Capitol grounds and adjacent areas.

The final leg of the march — from Tougaloo College on the outskirts of Jackson to the Capitol — and the rally were marked by a subdued atmosphere.

Meredith, 33-year-old Air Force veteran, led the procession with a number of national civil rights leaders, including Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Meredith drew the greatest response from the crowd, which couldn't hear half of what was said from the flatbed truck which served as a speaker's platform.

'Black Power' Chant Rallied the Negro

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — A chant echoes still from the Mississippi civil rights march, voicing clearly the Negro's disillusionment with past methods and his growing belief that political strength holds the key to his problem.

"Black power! Black power!" became the rallying cry suddenly after the march had been in progress for nearly two weeks.

This was the slogan that more than anything struck responsive chords. The eagerness with which the Negro masses seized upon the word disconcerted the more conservative leaders. It deepened the philosophical rift within the civil rights movement.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., who got into the march against the advice of a key associate, found himself fighting for control against a militant faction that talked of power, violence and disorders.

King, in the end, maintained his dominant role among the leadership but recognized the changing mood of Negroes. He defended nonviolence in integration but quit talking about new federal legislation — apparently no one was interested.

The march, from all indications, stirred many Negroes to action. Hundreds flocked to voter registration offices; they joined in rallies and trudged doggedly down the pavement.

In contrast to the Alabama march of 1965, the Mississippi march touched the masses with a message of hope and self-respect.

"Black power" became the cry of the Mississippi marchers as militant Negroes shunted into the background efforts of moderates to have the demonstration underline a drive for new civil rights legislation in Congress.

The turbulent Mississippi march culminates in a State Capitol rally, with James H. Meredith saying "the governor and every other person is going to pay attention to the Negro."

Vietnamese Fuel Dump Is Bombed

By ROBERT TUCKMAN
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Thousands of U.S. air cavalrymen joined the pursuit today for three North Vietnamese battalions swarming the coastal hills of South Viet Nam's central plateau.

In North Viet Nam, U.S. Navy bombers left a large fuel dump in raging flames which sent up billows of smoke visible from as far off as their carrier 150 miles away, an American spokesman reported.

The reinforcements of sky-troopers turned Operation Nighthawk into a giant search-and-destroy sweep involving at least 6,000 U.S. combat troops. The prime target were the battered survivors of a stubborn North Vietnamese battalion hit repeatedly in eight days of fighting.

By ROBERT TUCKMAN
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Navy bombers turned a large North Vietnamese fuel dump into an inferno that threw up billows of black smoke visible for 150 miles away at sea, an American spokesman reported today.

Twelve hours after the strike by twin-jet A6 Intruders from the carrier Constellation the strategic oil stores were still engulfed in flames. Navy reconnaissance pilots said. The target was a fuel storage area 35 miles northeast of Vinh and 160 miles south of Hanoi.

U.S. military men said the raid—one of 68 missions against the Communist North Sunday—was a particularly successful blow at North Viet Nam's vital fuel reserves. These stores have been the target of intensified recent air attacks.

Immediately after letting loose their heavy bombardment, pilots of the low-level jets radioed they saw huge explosions accompanied by thick black smoke. One flier banked sharply to avoid a glowing orange fireball at 3,000.

"An entire hill erupted," another pilot said.

Charges Are Flying in Race for Gov.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Dale Alford has charged that the director of a state agency has violated the Hatch Act by asking state employees for campaign contributions.

Alford, a Democratic candidate for governor, said Sunday that he would discuss the matter tonight on a statewide television appearance. The telecast is scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

Alford declined to name the director or the candidate for whom the contributions were being sought.

But Winston Chandler, a former candidate, said the candidate was the "machine candidate," a label he has pinned on Frank Holt.

Chandler dropped out of the governor's race and endorsed Alford's candidacy.

The seven Democrats and two Republicans seeking the state's highest office will spend time this week preparing for the July Fourth political allies. Each have speaking dates at holiday rallies at Piggott, Corning, Portia and Marmaduke, all closely located in East Arkansas.

Two wealthy candidates, Republican Winthrop Rockefeller and Democrat Raymond Rebsamen, exchanged kind words over the weekend at a rally at Morrilton.

Rockefeller, a multi-millionaire, said he would be interested in running against Rebsamen in the general election because they would campaign on the issues.

Gus McMillan, another GOP gubernatorial candidate, spoke of his opposition to the United States space effort.

Jim Johnson told a Stuttgart audience that prayer will be returned to the state's public schools if he is elected.

"That's one law we're going to defy. I don't think Lyndon Johnson's got the guts to send troops down to do anything about it," he said.

Didn't Intend to Use Name

WYNNE, Ark. (AP) — J. L. (Bex) Shaver Sr., a special counsel hired by the state Highway Department to investigate reports of price-fixing in the asphalt industry, said Thursday that if he used the name of American Oil Co. when talking about the matter Wednesday, he did not intend to.

Shaver named several companies which had sold asphalt to the state. He said Thursday that his naming these companies did not necessarily mean that they were involved in reports of price-fixing he was hired to investigate.

Shaver was quoted as naming American and four other companies.

No Signs of Life on Mt.

CHRISTCHURCH, New Zealand (AP) — Rescuers gave up efforts to reach four teen-age mountain climbers after a helicopter pilot saw no signs of life today on the sheer, icy face of Mt. Rolleston.

Big Man Trying to Get Smaller

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Aslan Palombo, 23, of Bathym, Israel, is a big man at Emory University in Atlanta. But he's there to get smaller.

Palombo, 5-11, weighs 500 pounds. The university's clinical research unit has him on a diet of 300 calories a day and is studying his small intestine.

"I am using people who want to lose weight to see what happens to the small intestine while fasting," said Dr. James Achord, assistant professor of medicine at the clinic. "Several hundred people have been through, but he is the heaviest we've had."

Dodd to Tell His Side to Probers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, onetime FBI agent and war crimes prosecutor, tells his side of the story today to senators investigating misconduct charges against him.

The white-haired Connecticut Democrat and his wife take the stand in a climactic session of the Senate Ethics Committee.

Among other things, the committee wants to ask some questions about three Oriental rugs in the Dodd's home.

It wants to find out from the petite Mrs. Dodd whether the rugs were gifts from public relations man Julius Klein, the controversial lobbyist for West German business firms.

Allegations against Dodd include charges by columnist Drew Pearson and Jack Anderson that Dodd received expensive gifts in return for praising Klein to West German officials and clients.

Dodd's former office manager and personal bookkeeper, Michael O'Hare, 30, testified Thursday he saw the Oriental rugs in the senator's home in Washington's Georgetown section, but didn't know who paid for them.

O'Hare, one of the group of former Dodd employees who turned office files over to Pearson and Anderson, said under usual circumstances he would have taken care of the bills if Dodd had purchased the rugs.

Also scheduled to make a reappearance in the committee's fourth day of open hearings was former Dodd staffer Gerard Zeiller, now employed by Sen. Norris Cotton, R-N.H.

Zeiller already has denied testimony by Marjorie Carpenter, Dodd's former personal secretary, that he once speculated Dodd got $10,000 from Klein for praising the lobbyist on a German trip.

The testimony by the attractive Mrs. Carpenter brought Dodd to his feet in the hearing to accuse her of perjury. After Dodd's testimony, the committee may take a break for the July 4th holiday and hear testimony by Klein on his return from a trip to Europe.

Salt in Oceans

Major efforts are being made to find large-scale economical methods of extracting salt from the sea so that seawater can be used for drinking and other human needs. A gallon of seawater contains about 4½ pounds of salt, and it is estimated, there are about 4.5 million cubic miles of salt in all the earth's oceans combined.

Hospitals Say State Must Pay

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Welfare Department must pay the full cost of treatment it authorizes for patients, or most hospitals in Arkansas will not make their beds available to welfare recipients, warns the Arkansas Hospital Association.

The association said Saturday that in 1965 the state department refused to pay for more than $1.5 million worth of treatment and the individual hospitals made up the loss by padding the bills of patients who paid their own way.

After July 1, the association said, the federal medicare program will free a "substantial amount" of funds used by the Welfare Department.

Most of the 106 member hospitals have agreed that unless these or other funds are used to pay for treatment authorized by the department the welfare patients will not be admitted, the association said.

Thanks to Some Fine Cooperation

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Peter Rajtic, 6, can walk with crutches and braces, thanks to international cooperation and the Kennedy Rehabilitation Institute in Minneapolis.

Petar, stricken with polio when he was 18 months old, arrived in the United States paralyzed 13 months ago.

His aunt, Mrs. Dragica Milec of Zagreb, Yugoslavia, persuaded the Yugoslav government to pay travel costs to Minneapolis for Petar and his father, Pavele Rajtic, a school teacher at Pula, Yugoslavia.

After surgery and long months of therapy, Petar is going home next week. In addition to the ability to walk, he's taking home a knowledge of English, a Batman T-shirt, a Notre Dame sweater and a Minneapolis Twins baseball cap.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Danny Kaye, before taking off for foreign parts, strolled before the CBS cameras Wednesday night and instructed his faithful fans to watch his good friend, singer John Gary and his show which will keep the Kaye show spot on CBS occupied over the summer.

A few days ago, singer Dean Martin strolled before the NBC cameras and told us to watch his good friends, Dan Rowan and Dick Martin, during his holiday. Then he rode merrily off in a golf cart.

These two similar procedures indicate that it is this season's approved form for holding audiences while the star is getting a rest from television.

And John Gary, it is a pleasure to report, is an attractive young man with a very fine voice who can tackle almost any type of song with success. Wednesday night Kaye stayed around to do a couple of comedy turns in the show, and he was needed, too.

The musical numbers, most familiar songs, were fine. The settings were handsome. But a late evening variety show really needs some lively and stimulating comedy. And where the new "John Gary Show" may fall down is in its concentration of music — there was nothing else for at least the first half. There were songs by Gary, songs by guest star Leslie Uggams, songs by the British long-hair duo, Chad and Jeremy. Later, even Danny's two numbers — one done with a French accent and the other, cockney — were rooted in song.

Gary, while completely at ease when singing seems a bit unsure of himself handling speaking lines. But there really ought to be more changes of pace and mood in the show.

ABC recently announced that one of its westerns scheduled for next season had suffered a title-change — from "Them Monroes" to "The Wild Country."

This decision stood for about two weeks. Now ABC has announced that it is no longer "The Wild Country." But "The Monroes." The new title won't give viewers much of a clue about the nature of the series, but it will keep a lot of English teachers from writing complaining letters to the network.

Following a custom established several years back, CBS' "Lucy Show" will be replaced from July 4 through Labor Day with a collection of pilot films for comedy series that never found network niches.

Girls State Delegates Honored with Picnic

Junior members of the Leslie Huddleston Unit 12, American Legion Auxiliary, honored the 1966 Girls State delegates with a picnic at Fair Park on Wednesday, June 22. Brenda Bain, retiring president of the group, offered the invocation.

A cake decorated with an Arkansas Girls State motif centered the table. The eight Girls State delegates present entertained with songs and dances they had learned during their week of encampment at Camp Robinson and also told of their experiences there.

The following officers were named for the coming year, 1966-67: chairman, Jeanne Pruden, vice-chairman, Cathy Field, secretary-treasurer, Mary Nell Williams; historian, Cindy Reese; chaplain, Linda Huckabee; sergeant-at-arms, Maria Jones.

Color of the Pants Tips Personality

NE WYOMING (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

The color of pants you wear is a tipoff to your personality, according to Emanuel G. Rosenblatt, slacks manufacturer. "For example, athletic people like red, egotists like yellow, convivial folks prefer orange, and cultural people go for purple."

Most moonlighters don't work by moonlight. The average moonlighter is a family man between 25 and 44, and the 13 hours a week he works extra are usually put in on weekends or after finishing his regular job.

Ever think your scotch drink had a faint whiff of bourbon in it? Chances are it may have. By law, oak barrels in which bourbon is aged can be used in this country only once. So thrifty Scots buy up a million of the used barrels each year and use them to age their whisky.

McMath Retires, a Banker Half Century

Syd McMath

Fifty years of banking service — all with the same bank — will draw to a close Friday, July 1, for Syd McMath of First National Bank of Hope.

McMath, now executive vice-president and director of First National, joined the bank in 1916 when it was known as the Hope National Bank and had deposits of less than $400,000. Today deposits have swelled to $12 million.

Active in the Arkansas Bankers Association, he has served as its treasurer and as a member of the executive council. He has also served as group chairman for the state financial region which includes Hempstead County.

For many years he has been county key banker and county bond chairman. In this past quarter he reported a record amount of United States Savings Bonds purchased in Hempstead County.

A former chairman of the Hope School Board, McMath also headed the Hope and Hempstead County Hospital Association. He has served on the boards of the library, city, and country club. He is a 32nd degree Mason and is past master of Whitfield Lodge No. 239.

Both he and his wife are active in the First Methodist Church of Hope, where he was a former chairman of the official board.

After retirement McMath will remain on the board of directors of the bank. He has been a director since April, 1938.

He and his wife will leave for New England in early July where they will spend the summer with their son, Sydney McMath, Jr., a consultant with the United Business Service in

Bob Thomas at the Movies

AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — John Gary is inclined to smile wryly when associates comment, "Isn't it great, now that you're an overnight success?"

A success he is — hot in the night clubs and on discs, starting for CBS this summer on the John Gary show, replacing Danny Kaye.

Overnight? Forget it. John was singing to huge audiences at an age when most boys are playing Little League. His splendid soprano won him a singing scholarship in New York at the age of 9, and he came on up the river from his home in New Orleans, La.

Later John was singing for USO shows and in Ken Murray's marathon "Blackouts" show in Hollywood.

"I was in the show for a year and a half," he recalled. "Then one night I was singing 'When Irish Eyes Are Smiling' to Marie Wilson and my voice cracked. I lost my soprano and my career at the same time."

Later he learned to sing again by studying the records of Tony Bennett, Vic Damone, Perry Como and others. He still does impressions of them in his night club act, but he also developed a style of his own — melodic, romantic, pitched higher than most baritones.

John's career was going well until he encountered something he couldn't lick: rock 'n' roll. He figured he couldn't survive amid such dissonance and so went into the salvage business in New Orleans.

"What lured me back was seeing singers like Jack Jones, Andy Williams and Robert Goulet make it in the record field," he said. "I figured there might be a chance for me."

He scored well in clubs, and his rendition of "Danny Boy" was heard by an executive of the Kaye show. That led to three guest shots with Kaye last season. During the past season, Gary appeared nine times as part of the plan to groom him for the summer takeover.

Loses Balance, Drowns in Lake

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — Authorities recovered the body of Cleo Wright, 57, of Little Rock, from Lake Conway Thursday. Faulkner County Sheriff Joe Castleberry said Wright and his granddaughter, Margaret Murphy, 13, were fishing. He said Miss Murphy told him that the motor stalled on their boat and Wright tried to move the motor and hit a log. When he leaned over to get the motor off the log, he lost his balance and fell into the lake, she said.

It wasn't immediately apparent whether Wright had drowned or had suffered a heart attack prior to falling in the water. Castleberry said Wright had had a heart condition for about three years. Nearby fishermen came to the rescue of the girl, who stopped the motor.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Battel

Lonely People Anonymous?

Dear Helen: They have Alcoholics Anonymous, Gamblers Anonymous, Suicide Anonymous, Recovery Anonymous (for Mentally Ill), Dropouts Anonymous, Divorce Anonymous, Overeaters Anonymous. Why can't they have "Lonely People Anonymous" for those of us who need friends?

It would work the same: A telephone number to call, then somebody to talk to, cheer you up; perhaps a personal visit, and an invitation to join the club.

Loneliness is the worst affliction of our modern times. In fact it probably leads people to those other things, like liquor, overeating, suicide, even dope. I imagine teens would stay in school longer if they could find people who really cared, or talk to others who face the problem. This is why the newest "Dropouts Anonymous" got started.

So why not get at the root of the matter and start working on the problem of loneliness? I think this is a poverty program we have overlooked — poverty of the mind. I don't mean a lonely hearts arrangement, just a lonely people's club for those who want to mix and talk but don't know how to start in a big, busy city. — Widow

Dear Widow: An excellent idea! But it would take organizational genius to keep Lonely People Anonymous out of the lonely hearts bracket.

Best way to get a movement started is: start it yourself. I'll be waiting to hear from you, and more than happy to record results of your efforts. —H.

Lonely People Anonymous?

Dear Helen: This is "Needling Assurance," who told you about our little loaned angel, and asked your readers to assure me that it was best to keep our fatally deformed baby at home for the short while she had with us.

Hundreds of letters from all over the world gave us strength and encouragement. After you wrote to our paper, telling the editor we lived in this area, he ran several stories about our baby and our family.

One man gave $5,000 to a children's hospital near here, in our baby's name, saying that if anything could be done, he'd pay for it.

Easter Seals paid for her medication. Another woman opened up a bank account for her, and it was just enough to pay her funeral expenses.

Our little loaned angel went home April 29. She lacked three days of being 14 months old. It broke our hearts, but we know she is much happier there. She won't suffer any more.

Helen, please thank everyone again for being so wonderfully kind. — Needling Assurance (Pauline Troches, Newark, California).

Dear Helen: My husband raises the roof if I forget to sew a button on his pants for even one day. This in spite of having other pants to wear. But I have ONE toaster, and every morning we have to thump it five or six times before it heats up. This has gone on for a year. My husband is an electrician, so he has no excuse.

Should I stop sewing on buttons until he starts fixing my toaster? — Steaming Seamstress

Dear S.S.: No. You'll only prove that husbands can be twice as stubborn as wives.

Why not dismantle the toaster then call helplessly, "honey, the thingamajigger won't fit into the 'plechamaccallit'."

The dumb-female routine works much better than nagging. —H.

Billy Casper Wins Another Tourney

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — Billy Casper, in command of himself and his game, won the Western Open Sunday by letting a corps of youngsters flounder in his wake and took another stride past faltering Arnold Palmer.

The 35-year-old Casper shot a steady one-under-par 35-35-70 for a 283 total, the only score to better Medinah No. 3's par of 284 for 72 holes. He picked up the top prize of $20,000 to wrest the PGA money-winning lead from Palmer, whom he defeated in a playoff for the National Open last week.

Casper took dead aim at less experienced youngsters such as 24-year-old Kermit Zarley, 28-year-old Homer Blancas and 29-year-old Tommy Aaron. Aaron went into the final round with a one-stroke lead over the field, but Casper went in front on the third hole with a 12-foot birdie putt and dared the others to catch him.

Buckpasser Sets a New Track Record

CHICAGO (AP) — Buckpasser, sidelined throughout the celebrated Triple Crown activity, could seal the 3-year-old championship if he runs and wins the $100,000-added Chicagoan, July 9 at Arlington Park. The bay son of Tom Fool, owned by Ogden Phipps and trained by Eddie Neely, took the lead for the 3-year-old championship Saturday when he set the world mile record of 1:32 3/5 in winning the Arlington Classic.

Crossett Girl Has 3 Titles

GREENVILLE, Miss. (AP) — Brenda Scisson of Crossett won three titles Sunday in the Greenville tennis tournament. She beat Melinda Kuntz of Little Rock 9-7, 6-2 in the 16-and-under singles; beat Miss Kuntz 6-2, 6-2 in 18-and-under singles and then teamed with Miss Kuntz to win 16-and-under doubles with a 6-1, 6-2 triumph over Leal and Lynn Batson.

Meyers Award to Crossett Youth

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Karl Salb of Crossett, the only shot-putter in Arkansas high school history to hit the 60-foot mark, has been picked the May winner of the Charles T. Meyer Foundation award for excellence in athletics.

Tied for second in the balloting by sports writers were pole vaulter Pete Lenox of Camden and Biggie Wray, a half-mile runner for the University of Arkansas.

Perry Halts Win Streak of Redlegs

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Gaylord Perry is running like Juan Marichal and winning like him too.

Perry continued his sprint toward teammate Marichal and Los Angeles' Sandy Koufax Sunday, pitching a two-hitter as the National League — leading San Francisco Giants stopped Cincinnati's eight-game winning streak 10-0.

The victory was the 10th against one defeat for Perry, giving him a .909 percentage, the best among the league's top pitchers. Marichal, at 13-2, has an .867 mark while Koufax, who posted his 14th triumph against two defeats Sunday, is at .875.

In rambling toward the best season of his five-year major league career, Perry has picked up one of Marichal's habits. Instead of plodding slowly to the mound each inning as virtually all pitchers do, Marichal runs.

Perry did it Sunday, except for the last couple of innings, weak left ankle.

"I want to work extra hard to stay in rotation," Perry explained. "I want to try and impress Herman Franks."

Perry undoubtedly has impressed Manager Franks — and all of the other managers in the league.

The 27-year-old right-hander has accomplished half a 20-game season even though he missed nearly three weeks after hurting his left ankle sliding into second base May 24.

In other NL games, Los Angeles edged Atlanta 2-1, Pittsburgh trimmed Philadelphia 2-0, Houston topped St. Louis 6-3 in 11 innings and Chicago whipped New York 7-0 before losing 8-2.

In the American League, Baltimore outslugged California 12-7, Minnesota swept Detroit 7-5 and 7-1, Cleveland bombed Kansas City 14-3 after bowing 2-4, New York swept Chicago 7-2 and 2-0 and Washington downed Boston 9-3 after losing 13-7.

While Perry slymied the Reds, the Giants exploded with five home runs — two by Tom Haller and one each by Jim Davenport, Don Landrum and Jim Hart. Jim Maloney suffered his third defeat. He has won nine.

Koufax became the winningest pitcher in the majors, scattering seven hits and striking out 11. The Braves tied the game 1-1 in the fifth on Hank Aaron's run-scoring single, but the Dodgers pulled it out in the ninth on Dennis Menke's two-base error and Willie Davis' two-base hit.

Woody Fryman shut out Philadelphia on three hits while Roberto Clemente and Willie Stargell, who walked, scored the Pirate runs. Jose Pagan singled home Clemente in the fourth inning, and Donn Clendenon brought Stargell home in the eighth with a triple.

Jim Wynn's three-run homer off Joe Hoerner in the 11th inning boosted Houston past St. Louis. The Astros, blanked on five hits by Al Jackson through eight innings, erupted for three runs and a 3-1 tie in the ninth. Wynn drove in the tying run with a sacrifice fly.

Curt Simmons pitched a five-hitter for the Cubs in the opener of the doubleheader and was supported by Ernie Banks, who drove in three runs with a single and a sacrifice fly.

Richeys Have Chance to Make History

By GEOFFREY MILLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

LONDON (AP) — Cliff and Nancy Richey had a chance to make tennis history today by becoming the first brother-and-sister duo to reach the Wimbledon singles quarter-finals together.

After a weekend of waiting in the rain, the Richeys, of Dallas, Tex., were among the first competitors as the second week of the tournament got under way.

Nancy, 23, is almost there. She led Kathy Harter, of Seal Beach, Calif., 6-2, 2-0 before their fourth round match was halted by rain Saturday.

Chief Information,
Education Division

There is something about a new born deer, or any other animal, that makes people want to adopt them. It could be called "animalnapping."

In the first place, persons rearing wild animals at their home are required to have pet permits from the G & FC. These permits cost $2.50 for each animal and are valid for the life of the animal. Permits will not be issued for bobcats, wolves, coyotes or bear. After a permit has been purchased often problems begin to develop, especially with deer. The once cuddly fawn becomes hard-headed and no longer shy. I begin to chase kids and eat up the garden.

Sometimes, for no reason at all, it decides to polish its antlers on somebody's backside and becomes a honery cuss and can become a killer.

Most wild animals are difficult to raise in captivity, and in short — it's best not to become an animalnapper.

With the repeal of the predator law, hunters have asked the following general questions.

Q—Do I need a license to hunt predators?

A—A license is needed, according to the regulations, to hunt any wild birds or animals, predators included.

Q—Can I hunt predators at night?

A—Predators can be hunted only from sunrise to sunset. They can be killed at night only during the fur bearing season, and the hunters must be accompanied by a dog.

Q—What about the "buckshot law?"

A—The buckshot law, which made it illegal "to use or have in possession in game cover, buckshot or rifled slugs except during open gun season on deer and turkey" is no longer in effect.

Q—Can I collect a bounty on a predator I killed?

A—The G&FC does not pay counties for predators.

Aubrey Fowler, chief of the Enforcement Division, adds that poaching fines had been made two or three times more costly since the repeal of the predator law.

Shotguns in the hands of hunters have caused more casualties in the field than rifles have, reports the National Rifle Association. During the 1961-64 period 4,182 sportsmen were involved in accidental shotgun shootings, as compared to 2,740 by rifle.

The reports indicate that hunters shooting at sounds and movement was the leading cause of gun casualties, with the victim out of the shooter's sight.

The second most common cause of casualty, during the four-year span, occurred as the victim was covered by shooters swinging on game.

Rabbit hunters had the greatest number of gun mishaps, with 1,729 reported during 1961 through 1964, while deer hunters ranked second with 1,450 shooting accidents during the same period. Most accidental shootings took place between 2 p.m. and 4 p.m.

Outdoor enthusiasts should be more wary of bees than snakes, since more persons die from bee stings than do victims of snakebites. In fact, most snakes seen outdoors are harmless, and hunters and fishermen can eliminate the slight danger of snake bite by following a few simple rules.

The best advice is to try to avoid snakes, which usually strike a person only when cornered or when surprised. Watch where you walk and wear boots or leggings if possible. Trousers legs should be worn outside the boots to help deflect the fangs of a striking snake.

Scientists base the existence of poison man on stone weapons mingled with animal bones which they found at Poissin, N.M.

Bonn Trying for an Agreement

BONN, Germany (AP) — The West German government is trying to reach a temporary agreement with France to keep French troops in Germany after they are withdrawn from the North Atlantic Treaty Organization on July 1, an authoritative official source reports.

The week remaining is too short a time to reach a permanent accord on the status of the 72,000 French troops in Germany, the official said. The temporary agreement would at least make it clear that the troops are here as allies and not as victors of World War II.

Suits Filed on Asphalt Firms

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — A $6.4 million damage suit alleging violation of antitrust laws was filed Thursday against 40 asphalt companies doing business all over the nation. The suit was filed in U. S. District Court by Master-Crete Inc., which builds tennis courts and race tracks, and its operator, Joseph P. McLaren. The petition alleges that the asphalt companies conspired to fix prices and rig bids on asphalt products since 1963. Actual damage was listed as $1,815,076 and the petition asks for triple that amount under the antitrust law.

Feels U.S. Can Beat Russians

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "We have a real good team — a team that can beat the Russians — but I hope no one gets over optimistic."

Stan Wright of Texas Southern, the first Negro coach to head a U.S. men's track and field team in major international competition, made the comment after the National AAU Outdoor Championships Saturday and Sunday at Downing Stadium.

The first two men in each event automatically made the team but others will be added to the squad today to strengthen it for the meets with Poland at Berkeley, Calif., July 16-17 and Russia at Los Angeles July 23-24.

Gerry Lindgren, the NCAA three-mile and six-mile champion, who was forced out of the weekend meet by acute bronchitis, and Tommie Smith, the injured sprint sensation from San Jose State, will be added to the squad.

Schola Choir is Off to Europe

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The University of Arkansas Schola Cantorum, a singing group which won an international competition in Italy in 1962, is scheduled to leave New York next Thursday for a six-week tour of Europe.

The group will perform at the International Festival of Music at Aix-en-Provence, France, and will also give concerts in Italy, Austria, Yugoslavia, England, Switzerland and Monaco.

Forestry Group Meets

Last Friday over 113 registered for the annual meeting of the Chapter of the Society of American Foresters. The group visited several local woodworking industries, Experiment Station and forestry tracts.

At left is John Bassett, vice-president of Arkansas Chapter of the Society of American Foresters; Mr. Bassett is with the Southern Forestry Experiment Station at Crossett; and Lee Smiley, Little Rock, U. of A. Extension Service, secretary-treasurer of the organization.

It's proper for a bride-to-be to help select her engagement ring.

THE WELL CHILD

Early Immunization Vital To Assure Polio Protection

BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Although poliomyelitis vaccine can be given at any time of the year, it is rarely given in the summer and autumn (the polio season) because, if the child should fall to develop his immunity in time and comes down with the disease, someone is sure to blame the vaccine.

It is especially important to see that all children between the ages of 2 months and 6 years get this protection. The oral combined vaccine against all three of the prevalent poliomyelitis strains has been proved to be safe. It will give the child immunity within a week after it is taken. If a child had his initial polio vaccine during his first year of life a booster dose just before he enters elementary school is recommended. No further boosters are needed unless an epidemic threatens the community. If a thoroughgoing immunization program has been carried out, this is not likely to occur.

Q—Is a hot cereal really better for a child than a cold cereal? Are pancakes made with one egg more nutritious than a bowl of cold cereal just because they are more filling? Is dry milk (reconstituted) as nutritious as whole fresh milk?

A—Once for ounce the cold cereals are as nutritious as the hot but it takes a larger volume to make an ounce. More important than the temperature of the cereal is how appealing it is to your child. Remember, too, that wheat and oats are richer in vitamins and minerals than corn and rice.

The pancakes are more nutritious, not only because they are more filling but also because of that egg you put in them. Powdered whole milk is as nutritious as fresh milk but, since it is more expensive, its chief advantage is that in the dry state it needs no refrigeration and can be used in places where fresh milk is not available. There are also modified milk powders (not whole milk) but they should be used only on the advice of your doctor.

Greeks Lift a Blockade

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — The Greek Cypriot government today lifted a three-day blockade of the Turkish sector of Nicosia which had prevented the majority of the Turkish population from getting to work through Greek-controlled areas.

The blockade was imposed Tuesday after a bomb exploded in the Greek sector of the city.

The Turkish Cypriot leadership denied that Turkish Cypriots were responsible for the bomb explosion and asked the U.N. peace force headquarters to have the "inhuman blockade of Nicosia" lifted.

Diplomatic sources reported that Greek Cypriot President Archbishop Makarios lifted the blockade because of a plea by U.N. Secretary-General U Thant.

Q—Our 10-year-old boy has had alopecia areata since September. The only comment our doctor made was that the hardest thing for mom and dad was not to worry about it. Isn't there anything we can do for this condition?

A—Your doctor is right. Patchy baldness may persist for several months but eventually the hair comes back unless the disease extends to all the hair, including even the eyebrows and eyelashes. Meanwhile massage, supplementary vitamin B complex and exposure of the involved areas to the sun or a sun lamp to produce a mild burn but no blisters may be helpful.

Work Training

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Jim Phillips, state welfare commissioner, said Thursday that 2,519 persons are taking part in work training programs in 38 Arkansas counties.

He said the federal government has allocated $8.3 million for the programs under the Economic Opportunity Act.

Decisions Not Always Reasoning

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chief Justice Earl Warren has said a man's early life could not but affect his views on the court, which means the nine Supreme Court justices don't always reach their conclusions by sheer legal reasoning, if there is such a thing.

Behind the decisions, although intended for the welfare of the nation, is the humanness of the men: Their prejudices, earlier experiences, idealism, their individual sense of justice, and sometimes timidity, caution, or strength of will which has made this one of the most fascinating courts.

The term which ended Monday provided some examples, including statements by some of the justices that some of the other justices were deciding more on private feelings than good law.

This month a majority of the justices, with Warren reading the opinion, banned forced confessions by police from criminal suspects. The four dissenters were Justices John M. Harlan, Potter Stewart, Byron R. White and Tom C. Clark.

All four in their time had had a hand in dealing with criminal cases. Harlan and Stewart had been federal judges; Clark had been attorney general of the United States; White had been deputy attorney general.

But none of the nine had the first-hand experience of Warren in prosecuting criminal cases. He had been a district attorney in California.

Harlan flushed, pounded the bench, said this was "new doctrine and don't be fooled by it." He called it a hazardous experiment at a time when the crime rate was going up.

And White warned rapists and killers would be freed to rape and kill again.

A week later the court decided that police, when they arrested a drunken driving suspect, could take a sample of his blood to test whether he was really drunk.

This time the majority was made up of Harlan, White, Stewart, Clark and Justice William J. Brennan Jr., who had voted a week before against permitting forced confessions. His switch made this decision possible. Warren was against it. It required some very thin legal reasoning since the court in one case said a forced confession violates the Fifth Amendment's guarantee against self-incrimination but taking blood from a man against his will doesn't.

Justice Hugo L. Black, at 80 the oldest man on the court, was on it and agreed to the decisions when the Georgia poll tax was upheld in 1957 and the Virginia poll tax was upheld in 1961.

This year the court reversed all that, outlawing the poll tax in Virginia and, in effect, in every other state. This was too much for Black who stuck to his earlier opinions and tried to analyze his colleagues for seeing it differently now.

"I can only conclude that the primary, controlling, predominant, if not the exclusive reason for declaring the Virginia law unconstitutional is the court's deep-seated hostility and antagonism to making payment of a tax a prerequisite to voting."

And Harlan, another dissenter, thought the tax problem should be settled by politicians, not by judges. He said the decision amounted to "freezing into the Constitution the political views of the moment."

Man Killed in Florida Wreck

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Airman I.C. Richard H. Raines, 20, of Malvern, Ark., and two other men were killed Thursday when their car spun out of control and crashed into an oak tree.

The other victims were identified as Airman J.C. Roger Lee Mitchell, 20, of Friedens, Pa., and Howard D. Banks, 23, of Orlando.

Insurance Policy Probe Is Urged

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — State Rep. Donald Brown, a candidate for the state Senate, said Thursday he had asked the Legislative Council for an investigation of the Insurance Department's policies and practices.

The department was founded to protect the public, Brown said, but "it appears the only ones receiving protection are the insurance companies." He said several stock companies have blossomed, fleeced the public and then faded into oblivion.

The Insurance Department recently approved a 21.2 per cent increase in automobile liability rates and Gov. Orval Faubus has charged that some other coverages are overpriced by 26 per cent.

Luci May Upstage Some Neighbors

BOSTON (AP) — Luci Baines Johnson, the President's younger daughter, may upstage the neighbors when she visits Boston Saturday to attend a meeting of the auxiliary of the American Optometric Association at the Sheraton Boston Hotel.

Gathered in the adjacent War Memorial Auditorium will be the Massachusetts Republican convention.

CAPTAIN EASY

YOU SURE KRAGO, WHOSE WILD UFO STORY SHOOK US ALL, IS ALSO THE CHAP WHO TOLD YOU AND MCKEE THAT A UFO RAN HIS CAR IN THE PITCH?

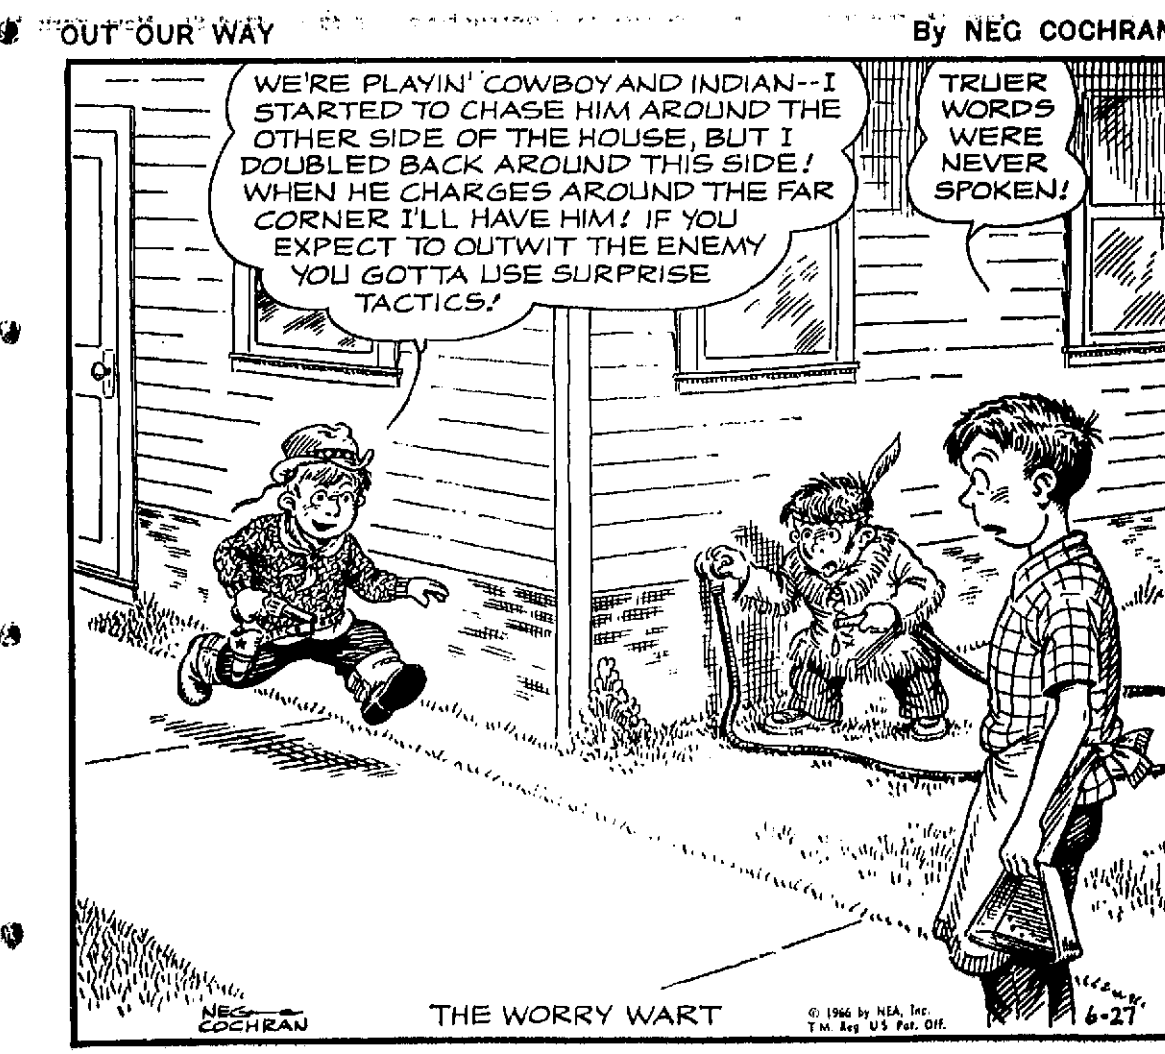

YEAH, EASY! BUT HE WAS DISGUISED AS A BRITISHER. CAP. COCKNEY ACCENT!

AND DIDN'T "RODICK" CLAIM HE'D SEEN A VERY LOW UFO NEAR MCKEE'S TRACT ON THE WAY TO MEET YOU?

YEAH... BUT LOTS OF EM HAD BEEN SEEN IN THAT AREA!

ONE MOTORIST REPORTED AN ODD RED GLOW IN SOME TREES... SO COPS CHECKED AN FOUND KRAGO TERRIFIED AN' SHOUTING FROM HIS ORDEAL!

YEAH, WHEN THE STAGE WAS SET FOR HIM TO BE FOUND, A "TOURIST" PHONED POLICE...

THE WORRY WART

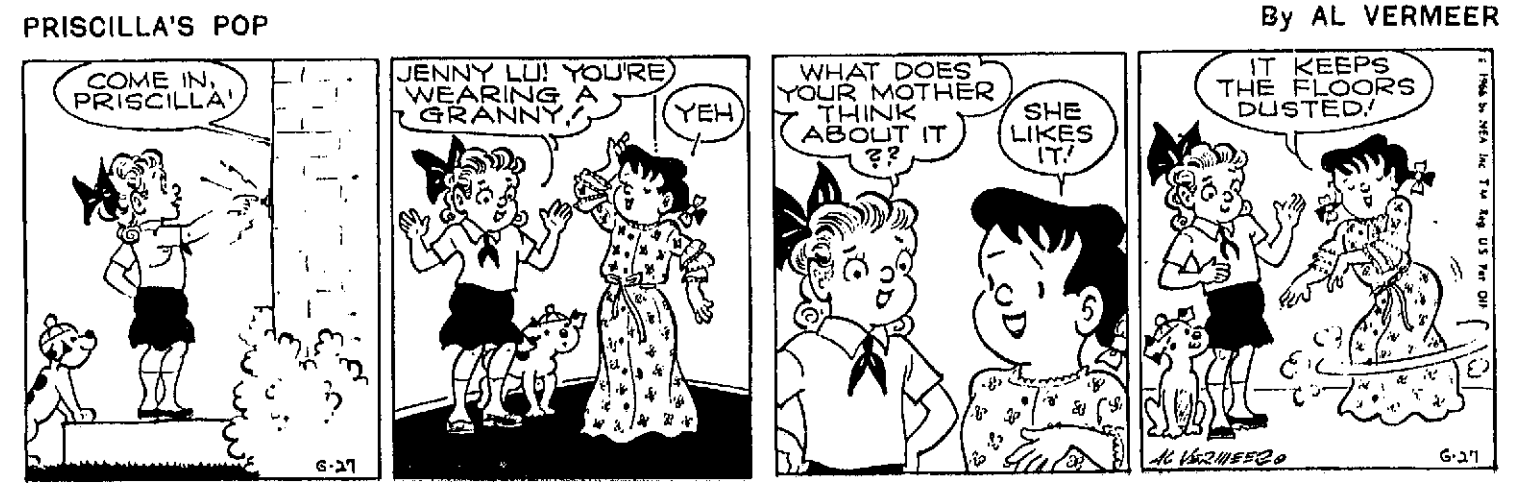

Every bridge book makes a point of saying that a good five card suit is rebiddable. Most of them fail to go one step further and point out that "rebiddable" does not mean that you must rebid it, but merely that you may when advisable. Do not rebid it just because it is right there in your hand.

Specifically, when you hold 5-3-3-2 distribution and your partner bids any number of no-trump there is usually no reason at all to rebid your five card suit. If your five card suit will run as a trump, it will probably run at no-trump. You have no singleton. Hence you have no glaring weakness that the enemy will attack.

Today's South had never learned these principles. Hence, he rebid three clubs to show that he held a five card club suit. North might well have persisted in no-trump but North had only one stopper in each suit and felt that he should support clubs rather than fight his partner.

South had a play for five clubs. He won the spade lead in his own hand, played ace and another heart and finessed dummy's jack. The finesse lost and he was down one trick.

North would have had a lead pipe cinch at three no-trump. As a matter of interest he probably would have wound up with 11 tricks because East might well have opened a heart away from his queen-ten. This would give North three hearts, two spades, two diamonds and four clubs.

CARD SENSE

Q—You, South, are dealer and hold:

♠ A 2 ♥ K J 8 1 ♦ Q 3 2 ♣ A 10 8 6

What do you do?

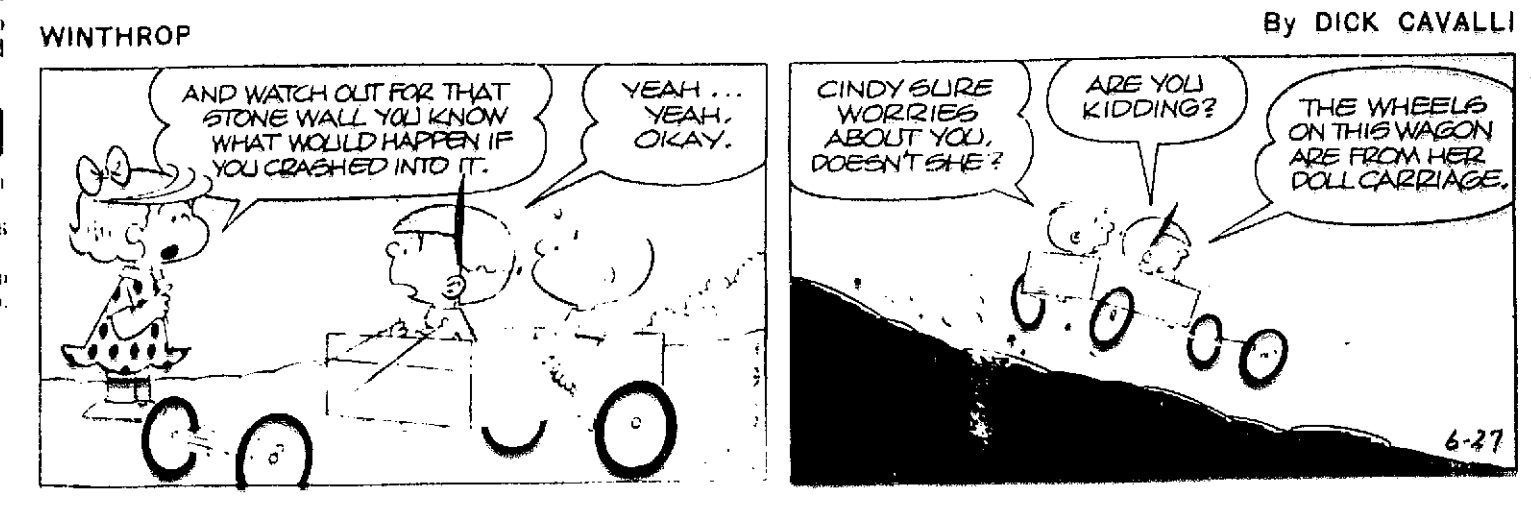

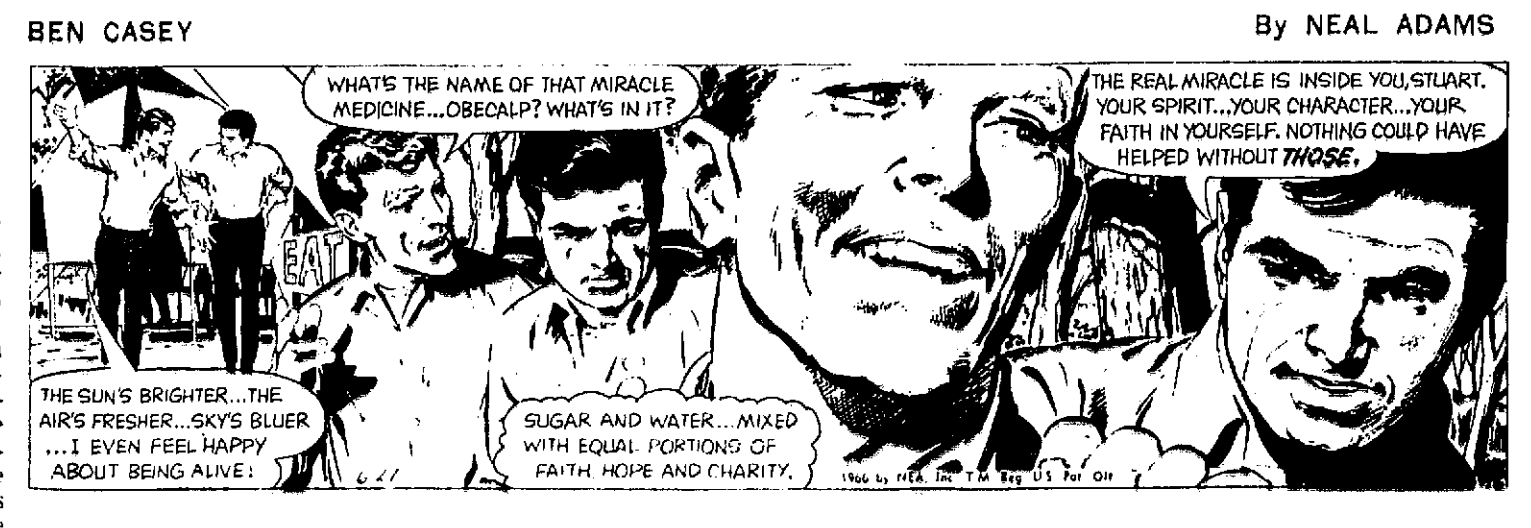

A—Your hand is too weak to open no-trump. Open one club.

TODAY'S QUESTION

You find one club. You say:

What do you do?

Answer: Tomorrow
